4.2.1 Library is automated using Integrated Library Management System (ILMS)

DELNET, or the Developing Library Network, is an autonomous organization that aims to connect libraries and information centers in India and beyond. It was established in 1988 and is headquartered in New Delhi. DELNET operates as a network of libraries, providing various services and resources to its member institutions.

DELNET has developed software named, Integrated Library Management System DEL-PLUS.

This Software designed and developed exclusively to work under all kinds of libraries.

It follows internationally recommended standards and formats such as MARC 21.

Best for small and medium size libraries which have collections upto one lakh holdings and barcode enabled.

This software is easy to work with and comprises the following modules:

- Acquisition
- Cataloguing
- OPAC
- Circulation
- Article Indexing
- Serial Control
- System Administration
